DATASHEET

Supplier Relationship Management

Establish, govern & optimise key supplier relationships, all in one place.

Supplier Relationship Management comes with proven benefits for efficiencies, cost reductions, agility, and resilience, yet procurement frequently lacks the information and governance required to make the most informed and effective decisions about their relationships. Siloed, offline ways of working and fragmented data sources lead to difficulty accessing information, and managing relationships becomes a slow, friction-filled process. Robust relationship management becomes impossible to achieve at scale.

A key component of Vizibl's Supplier Collaboration & Innovation platform, the Supplier Relationship Management module provides one centralised information repository for all relationships at the touch of a button, allowing you to implement transparent, standardised processes underpinned by real-time, single source of truth data.

Features

-  Map multi-level stakeholder hierarchies across OpCos, geographies, and different lines of business with Organisation Trees, Teams, and Circles.
-  Consolidate all operational supplier data with Supplier Information Hub and use customisable tagging to categorise suppliers in line with your business needs.
-  Establish a joint Account Plan with a Shared Vision, Intended Behaviours, Guiding Principles, and Shared Objectives to chart the course for your relationships.
-  Use real-time centralised data to inform Supplier Performance Management across customisable performance dimensions.
-  Link Strategic Objectives to Projects further on in the Vizibl application in order to quantify, visualise, and prove the value of a given supplier relationship.

Benefits

-  Quickly understand complex organisational structures and find the right person to contact, improving efficiency, accountability, and productivity.
-  Work from one single source of truth to access better-quality data, faster.
-  Get a holistic view of performance beyond operational metrics to understand the true value of your supplier relationships and better predict future performance.
-  Cement alignment around strategic goals and measurement with suppliers and partners, and ensure accountability in performance.
-  Demonstrate your commitment to your supplier relationships and build Customer of Choice status by mutually managing your relationships with suppliers.
